Experience Moody Global Media at NRB

NRB 2025 is just under a month away, and we are gearing up for another exciting week filled with opportunities to join live broadcasts and connect with Moody Radio staff and hosts from Monday, February 24—Thursday, February 27, 2025.

We will be broadcasting live from our suite, Mustang 2. This is a fantastic chance to meet many Moody Radio hosts, including Chris Fabry, Rob West, Dr. Michael Rydelnik, and the team from our new national program, Karl & Crew.

To schedule meetings, please connect with George Economos and Dave Woodworth at affiliates@moody.edu.

CLARIFICATION: Moody Radio to Only Sunset XDS File Delivery Feature

Sunday, February 16, 2025

As a clarification to the communication sent on Monday, January 20, 2025, Moody Radio will NOT be ending its use of the XDS receiver platform. We will specifically be ending the feature of the XDS audio file delivery service (formerly known as the XDS Store & Forward system) effective Sunday, February 16, 2025.

Simply put, if your station was receiving audio program files pushed to your XDS receiver device from our Moody Radio National Operations Center, this specific feature will be sunset. Again, we will NOT be sunsetting our use of the XDS receiver platform, just this one specific feature.

The Moody-1 and Moody-2 satellite and/or IP mode 24x7 programming feeds are not affected by this announcement.

The platform will continue live audio delivery through the live audio ports.

Moody Radio will be continuing on the XDS receiver platform for many years to come.

We are recommending that all stations currently utilizing the XDS File Delivery system immediately begin transitioning over to downloading Moody Radio produced programs from the Moody Radio Affiliate FTP site at <ftp://ftp.moody.edu/>.

If you are in need of new or updated FTP credentials from Moody Radio or have any questions on how to make this sync with your automation systems, please connect with our team at affiliates@moody.edu.

Thank you again for your partnership with Moody Radio and our apologies for any confusion this may have caused.
